Math

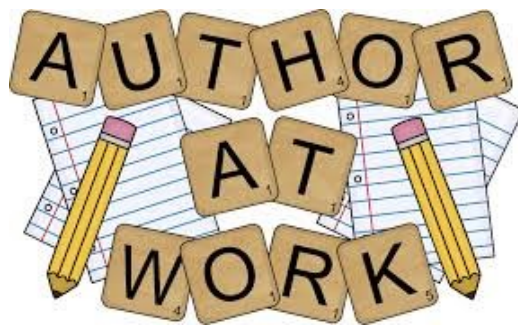

Students continue to practice counting up and down with three-digit numbers. We are working on expressing numbers in standard form, unit form, and expanded form.

Reading & Writing

Every reading group started a new chapter book this week. Ask your student to tell you about the book they are reading!

This week we continued to write poems—using simile, onomatopoeia, and quotation marks—but this time students wrote about real animals.

I am impressed with how creative second graders are with their writing skills and ideas!

Science & Social Studies

This week we have learned about Veterans, Veterans Day and the different branches of the military. Students made cards to give to Veterans at church services this weekend.

Students are loving our new and interactive science unit on rocks and minerals. We are working to describe and classify rocks based on the knowledge we already have about physical property.
